RVP's Message

Greetings Region 6 Iris Members

It seems that winter weather is finally here. There conflicting predictions on the severity of the upcoming winter, but we will find out soon enough.

The mini-convention, Median Iris Rule Supreme in 2017, occupied more time than Chuck and I could imagine and put us behind in many other activities like our vegetable garden and Region 6 newsletter. However, the convention was a success in providing a good time to most folks, at least, as well as being financially sound thanks to a great auction and post event iris sales. Thank you all who supported the event.

We have many new AIS members to welcome since the last newsletter. Please be sure to help them get involved within your iris groups.

God bless,

Barb

Fall Region 6 Meeting Sept. 16, 2017

NEOIS hosted Region 6 members at the home of Reta Winebrenner, Waterloo, IN. There were 41 people in attendance including guests from Wisconsin and Tennessee. RVP Barb Bunnell opened the board meeting at 10:19 am.

Secretary's Report: In the absence of Secretary Deb Diget, interim Secretary Judy Hollingworth read the minutes from the Fall 2016 board meeting. Carol Morgan updated us on Deb's medical progress. Jean Kaufmann moved, Peggy Harger-Allen seconded that minutes be accepted as read.

Treasurer's Report: Peggy Harger-Allen reported that the current balance is $21, 280.18. There was an enquiry if the $1000 had been paid to AIS to defer the loss at the 2016 National Convention in New Jersey. Peggy said it had been paid but explained that the Region 6 fiscal year runs January to December and so the item was not included in this report. Carol Morgan proposed, Bob Hollingworth seconded that report be accepted as presented. Motion passed. For further details .

Newsletter: Chuck Bunnell reported that the Fall newsletter is delayed due to work pressure from wrapping up the Spring Regional and Median Convention. He hopes to have it out within a month. Jean Kaufmann asked about putting information of iris displays as well as shows in the newsletter. Barb made the point that it is a newsletter and should have news items in it (which would include displays).

Jim Copeland gave details of the Iris Connoisseurs of Michigan/ South West Michigan Iris Society (SWMIS) meeting on October 7. Speaker will be Allan McMurtrie, hybridizer of reticulata irises. Lunch and meeting will be at The Fountains of Bronson, Kalamazoo.

He also mentioned that SWMIS is providing a bus to the Siberian Iris Convention in Maryland in 2018.

Cost is $20 /person – the remainder of the cost to be covered by SWMIS.

Awards: Carol Morgan presented Lana Wolfe with the region's Distinguished Service Award for all her work to further the smooth operation of the region.

Other Awards: Favorite In Region Iris at the Spring Regional/MIS Meeting – 'Breakfast in Bed' (MTB, Chuck Bunnell 2014). Favorite Out of Region Iris 'At Last My Blue' (MTB, Ken Fisher 2015).

Judges Training: Jim Copeland reported that Jody Nolin and Lana Wolfe had been appointed as Master Judges. Fred Pedersen will be a Garden/Exhibition Judge in 2018 and Annette Pedersen will be an Apprentice Judge in 2018. For other details -SEE SUBMITTED REPORT.

Jim asked that judges send him details of their completed training hours as credit received at a local club or in another region is not always forwarded to him. Barb reminded everyone that if their local club plans to hold a judges training session it must be approved ahead of time by the Region 6 Judges Training Chair (currently Jim Copeland).

Old Business. Youth – In the absence of youth chair Judy Barton there was discussion about youth members. TCIS has added two youth members to their membership.

Future Meetings:

See Table on Page 14.

Spring 2020? Kim Bowman from Region 7 (Tennessee) invited us to hold our spring 2020 Regional meeting in conjunction with Region 7 to help celebrate the 100th anniversary of AIS. After a lively discussion the motion was tabled.

Affiliates: Barb reminded everyone that she needs club affiliate information for AIS by March 1. Clubs are not always timely in getting this information to her.

State Chairs:

Indiana: Tom Tomlinson said that their membership is stable. They continue to distribute AIS and club brochures at their events.

Ohio: Fred Pederson reported that they have six new members. After observing SWMIS dig and sales and implementing some of the ideas, the CIS club's sales have improved. They have also incorporated an auction as part of their rhizome sale which has added interest. They hope to hold the NEIOS show at the Cleveland Botanic Gardens in the future.

Michigan: The new State Chair for Michigan is Adam Cordes. No report at this meeting.

New business: Barb reported that 78 people registered for the Median Iris Convention this spring and that income netted $1000. Region 6 provided $400 seed money prior to the convention and Laurel Richardson proposed, Jean Kaufmann seconded that the $400 be returned to the Region 6 treasury. Motion passed. The remaining money will be divided between the sponsoring clubs (IDIS and IGEI) and the Median Iris Society.

New AIS Convention Award: Jody reported that she proposed a new award to the AIS board to be given at the convention to the garden with the best integrated planting of irises and other plants. The board accepted her proposal. The new award will be the Richardson Award.

Carol Morgan expressed concern that clubs were moving from AIS approved shows to iris displays, thus losing an opportunity for judges to fulfill their duties and to educate the public. The general consensus was that clubs would like to continue with shows but that lack of people willing to work and competing events make a successful show difficult in some areas. Jody offered the idea that the newly retired maybe better prospects for new club members.

National: Jody Nolin reported that the 2017 AIS convention in Des Moines was in general very successful and that the addition of a symposium was well received. 2018 Convention will be in New Orleans in conjunction with the Louisiana Iris Society. Planning for the 2020 100th Anniversary Convention are ongoing. The headquarters will be in Newark. She will be visiting a garden in the Bronx next week which is enthusiastic about being a tour garden

Meeting adjourned at 11:44 am.

Respectfully submitted, Judy Hollingworth interim secretary (Edited by Chuck Bunnell)

Views of the Spring Regional/Median Mini-Convention

The Spring Regional/Median Mini-Convention was well attended by Region 6 members as well as folks from New York, Pennsylvania, Texas, Wisconsin, Oregon and Ontario, Canada, to name a few. Although the weather was a bit on the wet side, it didn't seem to dampen spirits much. We iris lovers are a hardy lot.

Friday started with three gardens, each with about 100 cultivars. Below are a few pics from the Zupan Garden in Plainfield, IN. Barb Zupan incorporates many plants and other features into her landscape.

An 'S'-shaped bed housed the guest iris in one of the few sunny locations at the Stephens' Garden near rural Pittsboro, IN. The large lot was home to many different plants and attractions including a waterfall.

A familiar couple taking a break in the shade, not that it was sunny.

The last stop Friday was the Master Gardener's Gardens at the Tippecanoe County Extension Office. Over a hundred 20' x 20' plots are rented for vegetable gardening. In May they are just getting started but the guest irises are in bloom, at least some of them. To the right is our main speaker, former Hoosier, Lynda Miller, with Jeanette Blackstone and RVP, Barb Bunnell.

Saturday was filled with three gardens and a lunch time downpour. The Keech Garden guest iris were neatly divided into two spots at the end of their property past the chicken coop, hosta beds, and commercial landscaping equipment.

The Sutter's Garden is located a few miles south of Lafayette on a large property consisting of thousands of daylilies, hostas, other perennials, and the second largest collection of guest iris, about 160 varieties.

Region 6 Distinguished Service Award

The Distinguished Service Award is the highest award offered by Region 6 and is given periodically to a Region 6 member in recognition of a long record of service to the Region and AIS. At the fall Region 6 meeting this prestigious award was given to Lana Wolfe. For many years Lana has served Region 6 enthusiastically in many ways including promotion of Fall Regional meetings by locating convenient spots for all three states. Lana is well known for her love of plants of all kinds which she has generously donated to Region 6 auctions.

Silver Siberian/Species Convention

The Francis Scott Key iris Society is pleased to be hosting the Convention for the Society for Siberian Irises, the Species Group of North America and the Region 4 Spring Meeting of the American Iris Society in Maryland on Friday and Saturday, May 25th and 26th, 2018. We have been very fortunate to receive a total of 494 guest rhizomes from 15 different gardens / hybridizers which are growing in our four tour gardens. These Siberian, laevigata, species and specX irises will be blooming on third year clumps.

We are also planning to have a show on Friday morning with entries permitted either Thursday evening or early Friday morning at the hotel headquarters: Delta Hotels Baltimore Hunt Valley, 245 Shawan Road, Hunt Valley, MD, 21031. We encourage attendees to bring specimens for the show so that we can see a cross section of irises that are blooming in late May in different sections of the region and the nation. The AIS 2018 National Convention is very early this year and is in New Orleans. We are hoping that many visitors from other AIS regions will be able to attend our meeting. Additional information and the registration form can be found on the Region 4 website, <http://www.irisregion4.com/> and the Society for Siberian Irises website, <http://www.socsib.org/>.
